“How do you know you’re a Christian?”

Christian maturity is often seen as a collection of activities (or “doing”) rather than identity-forming awareness (or “becoming”).

Humanity was created to be the mirror of God.

“The image of God is not so much something we possess as what we are. To be human is to be the image of God.” (Christopher Wright)

“The image of God is not so much something we possess as what we are. To be human is to be the image of God.” (Christopher Wright)

God has a remedy. His name is Jesus.

God has a remedy. His name is Jesus.

The missio Dei is to restore the imago Dei.

The missio Dei is to restore the imago Dei.

Sin damaged the nature of who we are and how we function.

“God’s ultimate goal in creation was to magnify his glory throughout the earth by means of his faithful image-bearers inhabiting the world in obedience to the divine mandate.” (G. K. Beale)

At its core, the mission of God is to create a people for himself (from all peoples) that will reflect his glory in all spheres of life.

Colossians 3:10

“...and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge in the image of its Creator.”

Disciple-making is the convergence of the missio Dei and the imago Dei.

“Learning to live as a Christian is learning to live as a renewed human being, anticipating the eventual new creation in and with a world which is still longing and groaning for that final redemption.” (N. T. Wright)

Who I Am (Identity) + What I Do (Identifiers)
= Who or What I Reflect (Image)

True Christian discipleship is rooted in Christ's identity.

True Christian discipleship is rooted in Christ's identity.

My behaviors, functions—and thus my identifiers—flow from of my identity.
